

Staying Healthy / Getting Better detailed results

Eye exams for people with diabetes

People with diabetes are at high risk for an eye condition that may lead to blindness. This graph shows the percentage of members with diabetes who had an eye exam to check for this condition in the past two years.

Source: HMO records

detailed results | Staying Healthy / Getting Better

Poor control of blood sugar for people with diabetes

Keeping blood sugar levels low can prevent many complications of diabetes. This graph shows the percentage of members with diabetes whose blood sugar level (glyco-hemoglobin) was too high. For this measure, a lower number means better performance.

Source: HMO records

Percent of members with diabetes whose blood sugar level was too high

Percent of members with diabetes whose blood sugar level was too high